The TITF was made for everyone, young, old, male, female, and is not bound to once single system of Taekwon-Do. The world of Taekwon-Do has two major systems, Olympic and Traditional. Traditional system was created by the founder as a means of self defense, physical fitness and a means to better yourself spiritually, and mentally. The Olympic system holds many of the same values however is primarily designed as a martial sport for the Olympics. Therefore the training and techniques between the systems can differ in many ways. This does not make any one system better than the other. The differences are what make us strong. Allowing the differences to flourish attracts new members to both the schools and the organizations. The end goal is Taekwon-Do for everyone.

A lot of people ask are we an ITF organization or a Kukkiwon affiliated organization. The answer is we accepts all Taekwon-Do systems. The founder, Grand Master Dafyd Haase, was a student of the Taekwon-Do founder General Choi Hong Hi, and a 9th Degree Black Belt in the ITF system. The ITF had a policy of excepting any martial artist from any system. They would accept and convert them to the ITF system. Grand Master Haase felt this was a step in the right direction. However to truly appeal to all Taekwon-Do stylists he felt that converting these students and instructors was not the answer. The best thing would be to accept them with their current system and rank. That way everyone could continue to train and advance with no set backs and all under the umbrella of one organization. One Taekwon-Do. To Grand Master Haase the moral code was the most important element, not the techniques.

Grand Master Dafyd Andrew Haase
9th Dan, CAN-9-01, TITF President

This handbook contains the requirements for each of the grades (gup) as laid down by the Traditional International Taekwon-Do Federation (TITF). It is designed to provide a basic reference source, and a guideline for testing up to 1st Gup belt. School owners and Certified TITF Instructors can use International Taekwon-Do Federation (ITF)Tuls or World Taekwondo (WT) Kukkiwon forms for patterns requirement. For the black belt (dan) grading requirements please see the TITF black belt handbook.

Students should know the theory of all levels below their own, plus have a good general knowledge of Taekwon-Do and the organization of TITF and ITF or WT Kukkiwon sytle system of TKD. This information can be found on the TITF, ITF, and Kukkiwon websites.

I wish to acknowledge the valuable assistance of Ms. Nicale Jefferson, 1st Dan of Jefferson Taekwon-Do club, in the preparation of this booklet.

Master Lawrence Jefferson
7th Dan USA-SFKLFM-2019, TITF

Special Instructions for TITF:

Uniforms:

- TITF accepts ITF style or WT Kukkiwon style uniforms with TITF patch on left side over heart.

Age considerations

- For those under 18 years of age, hand destructions are not permitted, with the exception of the front elbow strike or in some cases, at the discretion of the instructor and sitting examiners.

Patterns (Tuls):

- The TITF allows its members to practice and examine with either the ITF or WT Tul (patterns). With the ITF Tul the school owner can choose to use the sine wave motion if they wish or exclude it. As school owners you are permitted to set your own belt requirements. To achieve a higher rank you will need to complete requires as prescribed by your examiner.
- You will find both ITF and WT patterns to be mastered listed within appropriate gup level.

Destruction ...breaking boards:

- Please abide by all local/domestic regulations in where these types of techniques are prohibited.
- In such situations in where they are prohibited are, please remove destruction techniques.

b. Meaning of Yul-Gok

Yul-Gok is the pseudonym of a great philosopher and scholar Yi-I (1536 – 1584) nicknamed the “Confucius of Korea”. The 38 movements of this pattern refer to his birthplace on 38° latitude and the diagram () represents “scholar”.

c. What is Taekwon-Do?

Taekwon-Do is a version of unarmed combat designed for the purpose of self-defence. It is more than just that, however.

It is the scientific use of the body in the method of Self-defence; aiming to gain the ultimate use of one’s body through intensive physical and mental training. Though it is a martial art, its discipline, techniques and mental training are the mortar for building a strong sense of justice, fortitude, humility and resolve. It is this mental conditioning that separates the true practitioner from the sensationalist, content with mastering only the fighting aspects of the art.

Translated literally “Tae” means jumping or flying, to kick or smash with the foot; “Kwon” denotes the fist – chiefly to punch or destroy with the hand or fist; “Do” means art or way.

d. Student / Instructor Relationship: Students

1. Never tire of learning. A good student can learn anywhere, any time. This is the secret of knowledge.
2. A good student must be willing to sacrifice for his art and instructor. Many students feel that their training is a commodity bought with monthly dues, and are unwilling to take part in demonstrations, teaching, and working around the do jang. An instructor can afford to lose this type of student.
3. Always set a good example for lower ranking students. It is only natural they will attempt to emulate senior students.
4. Always be loyal and never criticise your instructor, Taekwon-Do or the teaching methods.
5. If your instructor teaches a technique, practice it and attempt to utilise it.
6. Remember that a student’s conduct outside the do jang reflects on the art and instructor.
7. If a student adopts a technique from another do jang and the instructor disapproves of it, the student must discard it immediately or train at the gym where the technique was learned.
8. Never be disrespectful to your instructor. Though a student is allowed to disagree with the instructor, the student must first follow the instruction and then discuss the matter later.
9. A student must always be eager to learn and ask questions.
10. Never betray the instructor.

b. Meaning of Toi-Gye

Toi-Gye is the pen name of the noted scholar Yi Hwang (16th century), an authority on neo-Confucianism. The 37 movements of the pattern refer to his birthplace on 37° latitude, the diagram () represents “scholar”.

c. Explanation of the Tenets

Courtesy (Ye Ui)

Taekwon-Do students should attempt to practise the following elements of courtesy to build up their noble character and to conduct their training in an orderly manner as well.

- 1) To be polite to one another
- 2) To encourage a sense of justice and humanity
- 3) To distinguish instructor from student, senior from junior, and elder from younger
- 4) To behave oneself according to etiquette
- 5) To respect others' possessions

Integrity (Yom Chi)

In Taekwon-Do, the word integrity assumes a looser definition than the one usually presented in a dictionary. One must be able to define right from wrong and have the conscience, if wrong, to feel guilt. Listed are some examples where integrity is lacking:

- 1) The student who requests rank from an instructor, or attempts to purchase it.
- 2) The student who gains rank for ego purposes or the feeling of power.

Perseverance (In Nae)

There is an old Oriental saying, “Patience leads to virtue or merit” – “One can make a peaceful home by being patient for 100 times”. Certainly, happiness and prosperity are most likely to come to the patient person. To achieve something, whether it is a higher degree or the perfection of a technique, one must set a goal then constantly persevere. One of the most important secrets in becoming a leader of Taekwon-Do is to overcome every difficulty by perseverance.

Self Control (Guk Gi)

This tenet is extremely important inside and outside the do jang, whether conducting oneself in free sparring or in one's personal affairs. An inability to live and work within one's capability or sphere is also a lack of self control. According to Lao-Tzu “the term stronger is the person who wins over oneself rather than someone else.”

Indomitable Spirit (Baekjul Boolgool)

Indomitable spirit is shown when a courageous person and their principles are pitted against overwhelming odds. A serious student of Taekwon-Do will at all times be modest and honest. If confronted with injustice, he/she will deal with the belligerent without any fear or hesitation at all, with indomitable spirit, regardless of whosoever and however many the number.

 - Meaning of Hwa-Rang
Hwa-Rang is named after the Hwa-Rang youth group which originated in the Silla Dynasty in the early 7th century. The 29 movements refer to the 29th Infantry Division, where Taekwon-Do developed into maturity.
 - Meaning of the red belt
Red signifies danger, cautioning the student to exercise control and warning the opponent to stay away.
 - History of Taekwon-Do
Taekwon-Do was named on 11 April 1955. This is not to say that Korean martial arts did not exist before then, but that was the year in which the name was first put forward.
Japan occupied Korea for many years and during the Second World War the two countries were co-belligerents. Many Koreans fought on the side of the Japanese and received training in the Japanese martial art systems.
One of the most prominent personalities at this time was General Choi Hong Hi.
Gen. Choi had studied the Korean art of Tae Kyon as a child and as a student in Japan he had learned Karate. This combination of Korean and Japanese arts was to form the basis of his knowledge.

In January of 1946, General Choi, a company commander in the Korean army, began to teach Karate to his soldiers as a means of physical and mental training. It was then that he realised that he needed to develop a Korean martial art, and with this in mind he began to develop new techniques. In 1954 there was a martial arts exhibition where General Choi's senior student Mr Nam Tae Hi smashed 13 roof tiles with a punch. Impressed by this demonstration, South Korean President Syngman Rhee instructed General Choi to officially introduce the art into the Korean army. By the mid 1950s the various martial arts schools were ordered by President Rhee to unify under a single system. The name "Taekwon-Do" was submitted by General Choi on April 11, 1955.

Gen. Choi organised the first international demonstration tour, the consequences of which contributed towards the eventual formation of the International Taekwon-Do Federation on 22 March 1966. In 1972, as a result of political pressure within South Korea, Gen. Choi left the country to re-establish the headquarters of the ITF in Canada, later to be relocated to Vienna. The Korean government quickly set up a rival international body, calling it the World Taekwondo Federation. Since that time, Taekwon-Do has been divided, and the techniques, patterns and systems differ between the two styles.

We continue to practice the original form of Taekwon-Do, the Chang-Hon style. The theories, terminology, techniques, systems, methods, rules, uniform, and philosophical foundation were scientifically developed, systemised, and named by Gen. Choi Hong Hi. On a philosophical level, Taekwon-Do is derived from traditional, ethical and moral principles, and from the personal philosophy of Gen. Choi.

The physical techniques of Taekwon-Do are based on the principles of modern science, in particular Newtonian physics which teaches us how to generate maximum power.

Although Karate and Tae Kyon were used as references in the course of developing the art, the fundamental theories and principals of Taekwon-Do are different from those of any other martial art.

General Choi passed away on the 15th of June 2002.

Meaning of Choong-Moo

Choong-Moo was the name given to the great Admiral Yi Soon-Sin of the Lee Dynasty. He was reputed to have invented the first armoured battleship (Kobukson) in 1592, which is said to be the precursor of the present day submarine. The reason why this pattern ends with a left hand attack is to symbolise his regrettable death, having no chance to show his unrestrained potentiality checked by the forced reservation of his loyalty to the king.
